CURBSIDE RECYCLING IS IN TROUBLE

Local recycling processors report that more and more recycling is contaminated with garbage (up to 25% garbage). Contamination happens when residents put unacceptable or non-recyclable items into their recycling bag. Also, recycling markets are shrinking because of China's decision to restrict imports. Simply stated, they no longer want to be the global end-market for the world's recyclables because, for decades, they have been accepting recyclables contaminated with trash and hazardous waste, leaving them with a spoiled environment that they are now working to clean up. These two facts – huge contamination rates and China's restriction of imported recycling – have created a perfect storm for recycling here. Everyone's help is needed to do a better job of recycling to keep the program viable. Click here to view the recycling guidelines.
